

MRS. CLIFFORD RIPPETH, FORMERLY OF COSHOCTON, BRINGS DAMAGE SUIT

Asks $10,000 From Father-In-Law, Frank L. Rippeth,
For Alleged Alienation of Affections — Sensational Allegations Made in Petition Filed Wednesday

Mrs. Maud Rippeth of Dennison, formerly of Coshocton, has entered suit against her father-in-law, Frank L. Rippeth of near Bowerston, charging alienation of the affections of her husband, Clifford B. Rippeth. Damages in the sum of $10,000 are asked. Frank Rippeth is a brother of A. S. Rippeth, of North Sixth street, Coshocton. His son, Clifford Rippeth, formerly worked in the Rippeth dry goods store here.

In her petition, Mrs. Rippeth recites that she was married to Clifford B. Rippeth in May, 1908, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Anderson, on Grant street, Dennison. She further avers that through the influence of Frank L. Rippeth, she was banished from her home in Leesville, March 16, 1909. She states that her husband and his father placed her clothing and other belongings in a trunk while she was visiting her parents in Dennison and shipped them to her with a letter enclosed, asking her never to return to the home. It is further charged that the defendant carried the letter in his pocket for a time exhibiting the same to divers persons for the purpose of creating a feeling against the plaintiff.

Both Clifford Rippeth and his wife are well known in Coshocton. Mr. Rippeth, previous to his marriage, had been in Holton, Kansas, clerking for his uncle, C. M. Rippeth, a former Leesville resident. He was a resident of Coshocton for a time and both he and his wife were popular in the society in which they moved.

A. W. Elson is the attorney for the plaintiff and T. H. Loller has been retained as counsel for the defendant.

Train 44 Will Stop Here After Nov. 27

New Schedule Will Give Passengers From Coshocton to New York Fine Opportunity For Day Light Ride Arriving There at 6 in the Evening.

Fast train No. 44, that has always sped through Coshocton like a scared rabbit, will make a regular stop at this station after Nov. 27, when the new Panhandle time card goes into effect. It will stop here, east bound, at 5:10 a.m., making a fine daylight ride to New York through the picturesque Pennsylvania mountains, arriving in New York at 6 p.m. the same day. A Columbus paper last night said No. 20 would not stop at Coshocton when the new change in time took place, but as they also said No. 20 went through in the morning, whereas it goes through at 10 p.m., they doubtless are mixed.

Agent Webner of the Pennsy left today for Pittsburg where he becomes a member of a special train of Pullmans that the company will run to New York, taking all the ticket agents of the line with them, to inspect the magnificent new station there, which is reached by tube tunnels under the river from the Jersey shore.

WOMAN'S CLUB FINDS COLLEGE COURSE PAYS

Does a college education pay? Statistics produced in a discussion in the Coshocton Woman's Club, Wednesday afternoon, indicate that a college education pays and pays big. The matter came up as a discussion rather than a debate, and the general opinion was of course in favor of higher education. Mrs. C. D. Brooke who conducted a portion of the investigation brought forth statistics that show that only about one per cent, or nearly half of them, are filled by college men. The wonderful influence on national industrial life of that one per cent that goes to college is marvelous.

Valley Flyer To Leave Coshocton At 3 P.M. Nov. 28

Word has been received here from Mansfield stating that railroad officials there have announced that beginning Monday, November 28 the Walhonding Valley "flyer" will leave Coshocton at 3 o'clock instead of 5 o'clock, the winter schedule going into effect on that date.

The change in the time of the afternoon train up the valley will not affect the delivery of The Age. The paper will be put to press a little earlier and will be sent to Warsaw, Walhonding and other towns up the Valley, fresh from the press and will therefore reach many of its readers earlier than under the present schedule.

ROUGH HOUSE WILLIAMS COMING NEXT WEEK

A letter was received Thursday by The Age from Wm. E. Vogel, manager of Jack Williams the middle weight boxer who will be pitted against McGann at the Sixth street theatre on Thanksgiving night in the athletic carnival to be given under the auspices of the Coshocton Athletic club, saying that Williams would be in Coshocton in tip top shape for the big match next week.

After Williams wrestled Sam Burberger here last November he entered the ring and has since made an enviable record for himself. He has fought 22 battles ranging in length from 6 to 10 rounds each, and has yet to be defeated.

Every preparation is being made for the big athletic event by the promoters to make it one of the most successful affairs of the kind ever held in the city. Beside the big match between Williams and McGann there will be several other contests between local men in boxing and wrestling and novelty athletic features. One of the most promising events to take place is the "battle royal" which is counted upon to furnish most of the fun of the evening—that is humorous fun.

STOCK COMPANY OPENS TONIGHT

The Yankee Doodle Stock Co., which begins a three night engagement at the Sixth street tonight arrived in the city Thursday noon from Washington, Pa., where they have been playing this week. Every one of the bills produced by the company is elaborately staged and the costuming is beautiful.

WILBUR MAYO TO BE SEEN HERE IN BRIGHT EYES

If "Bright Eyes" the brilliant musical comedy which is promised Coshocton theatre goes later in the season makes her appearance here Coshocton will be given the opportunity of seeing one of her native sons working before the footlights in the person of Wilbur Mayo, son of A. Gerald Mayo an artist who formerly lived in Coshocton and was employed at the American Art Works. Wilbur Mayo has many warm friends in Coshocton and should the company come here he will be given a warm welcome. Wilbur possesses a remarkably clever baritone voice and has a most brilliant future before him.

WILL REMAIN SILENT UNTIL AFTER FUNERAL

Pending the funeral of his son, Charles E. Schneerer, a young Wittenberg college student, who died at Columbus State hospital from the effects of what was reported to have been hazing, John P. Schneerer declared yesterday at his home at Balfic that he would say nothing. He has not demanded an investigation but probably will. He is ill in bed from the shock.

Dispatches from Springfield yesterday, said Wittenberg College students maintain a volunteer police force to prevent hazing and unbecoming conduct on the part of students.

INSTRUCTORS ARE ANNOUNCED FOR THE FARM SCHOOL

Head of Domestic Science Department of O. S. U.
Be Here To Help Instruct Ladies of Coshocton County — Outlook Very Favorable.

Prof. C. R. Titlow, who arrived Thursday from the Ohio State university to confer with the committees in charge of the Agricultural Extension school, which will open here next Monday, announced Thursday afternoon the following list of instructors for the farm school:

Miss Nellie Woods and Miss Mary Edmonds, to teach in the Home Makers' course at the Presbyterian church. Word has also been received by F. E. Ponorene that Miss Ruth Wardell, who is at the head of the Domestic Science department of the state university, will also be here thus assuring especially good instruction. Prof. A. B. Griham, of Columbus, states that this Home Makers' course is something that no young lady can afford to miss. It is to be hoped that a large number of Coshocton young ladies will avail themselves of the opportunity of something of practical work.

Prof. George Livingston will charge of the farm crops department. Prof. George Story will charge of the animal husbandry department.

Prof. Titlow stated that even looks very favorable here for a successful farm school. He is pleased with the preparation have been made and states that sons who miss the school will be glad to meet any who have questions to ask after regular school hours.

Where Do You Want To Be Buried

Mausoleum May Be Built in South Lawn by Sidney Firm — Plan Before
Board of Control.

Do you prefer being buried under ground or would you rather be sealed in a crypt? A gentleman from Sidney appeared before the board of control at their meeting Thursday afternoon and declared there were many people in Coshocton who have a horror of interment in the earth for their dead, and he proposes to build a very handsome mausoleum here.

He wants the board to donate and to sell to him several lots in South Lawn cemetery on which to erect the building. He proposes to build a very handsome structure of concrete and marble, at an expense varying anywhere from $10,000 to $50,000, depending entirely on the demands of the committee.

He says that from $15,000 to $20,000 will build a very handsome structure for a city of this size. Instead of being buried under the earth, the dead body is deposited in a crypt, or solid stone or concrete shelf, just about large enough to accommodate the casket, and then hermetically sealed up for all time. The burial is entirely above ground and in a solid structure that will last for ages. A chapel forms a part of the building where services at burial or memorial services be held. A temporary mortuary chapel for general public use is contemplated.

Because of the absence of a Casingham the board took no action. A meeting will be called in a few days to further consider the plan. The plan of the gentleman who has the final resting place in mind instead of a grave, he will then spaces to accommodate as people as they may want in a mausoleum. It is said several have adopted this plan. It does not interfere in any way with the form of interment.

THREE BOUND OVER TO THE GRAND JURY

Mrs. Sarah Fouch and her daughter, Mrs. Ida Potter, and Roy Weeks were all bound over to the grand jury Thursday afternoon at 1:30 by Squire Staats after five cases had been presented to the court. Weeks, who was represented by J. L. McDowell, was charged with assaulting Mrs. Potter Sunday morning at the Weeks' home on South Third street.

Mrs. Potter and Mrs. Fouch were charged with using vile language and attempting to provoke Weeks to commit a breach of the peace. All pleaded not guilty but afterwards waived examination and asked to be bound over. They were all released on their own recognizance.

Roy Weeks testified that Mrs. Fouch and Mrs. Potter were drunk and that they came to his house looking for Mrs. Potter's husband, Tommie Potter. Weeks was washing his feet Sunday about noon. He said he put his hand against Mrs. Potter an told her to get out. She grabbed his necktie, he said, and when he pushed her away from him she fell on her face in the yard and cut her mouth. CLARK'S PREDICTION.

In a recent magazine article Champ Clark, Democratic candidate for speaker, declares the 1910 campaign is identical with that of 1890 and also predicts that the campaign of 1912 will repeat that of 1892, and that the Democrats will be victorious then as they were before. He might just as well go on while in his candid and prophetic mood, and he would tell the truth if he would say that, if the Democrats are successful, that 1913, 14 and 15 will duplicate 1893, 94 and 95. That is just as certain as night follows day—if the Democrats win the presidency. Then look out for hard times beside which all former panics will look like a summer day. Mr. Clark should carry his prophecy to the very end, even though it be bitter. The American nation fails and fails every time it lets go of the great principle of protective tariff.

THE FARM SCHOOL.

Just what force a townsman, an "ultimate consumer," may have in urging the average farmer to attend the university extension course, the farmer school, in Coshocton next week, is problematical. There is not, however, the slightest doubt that the farm school is to the farmer just as important a feature as the Sheldon sales school is to the merchant—and it is practically free beside. Let town and county unite to make the school next week at city hall and the Presbyterian church, a big success. We predict that the crowd that attends will be a surprise to even the fondest hopes.

THE GOVERNMENT BUILDING

"Our" congressman from this district, William Ashbrook, is feeling particularly genial just now over the tremendous vote he received, sending him back for his third term. And it is of special interest to us to know that he feels so enthusiastically interested in the matter of a public building for Coshocton. Newark has hers, Wooster has her appropriation, and it is now Coshocton's turn. Citizens irrespective of politics will get behind this project and boost the best they know how. The Age has promised Mr. Ashbrook to hand the public building for Coshocton, we will print his picture in the paper. No wonder he enters the business with a zest.

They say down in Columbus, the Democrats are going to shake the plum tree so hard they will shake even the bark off. And Democracy's bark is one of its chief assets.

Another Farm Life

Convenience

The farmer of today enjoys any number of luxuries and conveniences that were unknown but a few years ago. The telephone, free rural delivery, weather bureau service, better educational facilities, improved farm machinery, have all played a prominent part in making life on the farm pleasant.

But a bank account, one on which he can draw his personal checks, is a convenience almost indispensable to the modern farmer. By means of his bank book and check, he is able to keep an accurate check on all business transactions.

Such a record is important to the farmer, for his business is one of buying and selling and without his bank account he would be compelled to keep a complete set of books in order to have any definite record of his business affairs.

This bank gives special attention to the caring of farmers' accounts. We know their needs and requirements. We can serve you to your complete satisfaction.

SAUVEL WILL BE BACK IN THE GAME SATURDAY

Coach Bridge is working the high school team unusually hard this week in preparation for the game Saturday with West Lafayette college. Sauvel who last Saturday was out of the lineup against the Zanesville team will probably be back in his old position at left end while the lineup will otherwise be practically unchanged. The Coshocton team is counting on taking the honors Saturday and they are confident of a victory on Thanksgiving day when the college team comes down here for the final game of the season.

While Coshocton has been working hard for the game, Lafayette has by no means been idle. They have worked up some plays which they are counting on for big gains through Coshocton. Coshocton won from them earlier in the season but at that time the college team had had very little practice and were hardly in condition to play. Since then they have had some hard games so that now they are in excellent condition and as they on the whole are a husky bunch. They will give the high school team a hard battle if Coshocton takes the honors.

It is amusing to learn that Burns when just emerging from obscurity jealously anticipated that his birthday would come to be noted among other remarkable events. In a letter to his early patron, Gavin Hamilton, in 1786 he says, "For my own affairs I am in a fair way of becoming as eminent as Thomas a Kempis or John Bunyan, and you may henceforth expect to see my birthday inscribed among the wonderful events in the Poor Robin and Aberdeen almanacs along with the Black Monday and the battle of Bothwell Bridge."

G. W. WICKERSHAM

Attorney General Discusses the Glass Combine Case.

WICKERSHAM IS GREATLY VEXED

Scores Court For Leniency in Glass Trust Case — Jail Sentences Needed

Washington, Nov. 17. — When his attention was called to a Pittsburgh dispatch to the effect that as a result of fines recently imposed upon the Imperial Glass company of that city and its officers and directors by the United States court at Pittsburgh, every factory in Fayette county would suspend operations, throwing between 700 and 800 men out of employment unless they should decide to accept a 30 per cent reduction in wages, Attorney General Wickersham became very indignant. He issued a statement reviewing the case as it was presented in court. This statement makes it apparent that the attorney general was very much disappointed in the leniency of the court in imposing fines instead of jail sentences on the officers of the company.

"The evidence obtained by the department," says the statement, "showed that the Imperial Window-glass company was organized in April, 1909. It manufactured no glass, but was purely a selling agency, buying the entire output of 50 or more manufacturers of window-glass in some 10 different states. The agreement between it and the manufacturers from which it bought provided that no glass should be sold by the latter except to the Imperial company. The stock of the Imperial company was divided among the manufacturers. It was not until the company had brought into combination with it, under such contracts, manufacturers of 97 per cent of the entire hand-blown window-glass manufacturers in the United States, that it was determined to commence business.

Recites History of Concern. "It began business in January, 1910. By Oct. 1, 1910, prices had been advanced 70 per cent over what they were in April, 1909. The evidence showed that in the first three months of its operation the Imperial company earned net profits equal to its capital stock. The evidence showed that during the 10 months of business the company cleared about $1,000,000, or about 400 per cent on its capital stock.

"The court imposed fines of $500 on the individuals and $2,500 on the corporation. The combination was dissolved, the court was informed, and this was one consideration which led to the freeing of the defendants with fines only.

"If the rumored action should prove to be substantiated by fact," the attorney general concluded, "it would indicate a very mistaken leniency on the part of the court in imposing sentence which, it is hoped, would not be followed on any similar occasion."

ANNEX PANAMA? NO, SAYS TAFT

President Allays Fears of the Isthmians — Declares Rumors Baseless

Panama, Nov. 17. — After viewing the Culebra cut from all angles and expressing his approval of the work, President Taft heard the complaints of the canal employees who are paid by the hour, who are dissatisfied with the remuneration and demand higher pay. After listening to their side of the question, Mr.
Taft said he could not agree with them that they were underpaid. He added that, as a matter of fact, labor on the canal was the best paid in the world.

The principal event of the day,
however, was the dinner given in President Taft's honor by President Pablo Arosemena, which was attended by 200 prominent Panama officials, officers of the canal zone and citizens. Great interest was manifested in what Mr. Taft would have to say about the reports that have been in circulation here for some time to the effect that it was the intention of the United States to annex the republic of Panama. What he did say put a quietus on all such rumors. After referring to the progress of the work on the canal, he continued:

Guarantees Integrity.

"The treaty between the two countries makes the United States the guarantor of the integrity of the republic of Panama, and therefore in a sense the guardian of the liberties of her people, secured by your constitution. Our responsibility, therefore, for your government, requires us to closely observe the course of the conduct of those selected as officials of your government, and to insist that they be selected according to law. All this makes us specially interested in what is done in your government, but this relation neither calls for nor permits annexation. We are here to construct, maintain, operate and defend a world canal, which runs through the heart of your country, and you have given us the necessary sovereignty and jurisdiction over that part of your country occupied by the canal to enable us to do it effectively. We do not wish further responsibility in respect of your government than is necessary to carry out our purpose to construct and maintain the canal. We have no desire to add to the territory under our jurisdiction except as the operation of the canal may require. We have guaranteed the integrity of your republic and for us to annex your territory would be to violate the guaranty, and nothing would justify that so long as Panama performs her part under the treaty.

"I wish to make my statement emphatic, because irresponsible persons, without the slightest foundation, have started rumors that my visit to the isthmus was to promote annexation, when nothing could be further from the truth."

President Taft and party will start on their return trip this afternoon.

To display poultry in a market without it being necessary to tie the bird's feet together an Indiana man has invented a spring hook just large enough to hold a fowl's foot.

The Important Problem

confronting anyone in need of a laxative is not a question of a single action only, but of permanently beneficial effects, which will follow proper efforts to live in a healthful way, with the assistance of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, whenever it is required, as it cleanses the system gently yet promptly, without irritation and will therefore always have the preference of all who wish the best of family laxatives.

The combination has the approval of physicians because it is known to be truly beneficial, and because it has given satisfaction to the millions of well-informed families who have used it for many years past.

To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

MOST SEVERE COLD IS EARLY BROKEN IN SEVERAL HOURS

Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars, and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound, taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken, will end the grippe
and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach, limbs or any part of the body.

It promptly relieves the most miserable neuralgia pains, headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this harmless Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects, as a 25 cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist in the world can supply.

ENGLAND FACES GRAVE CRISIS

King George Stands Solidly Behind Peers — Privy Council in Session.

London, Nov. 17.—King George's reported refusal to promise Premier Asquith to create sufficient Liberal peers to outnumber the Conservatives in the house of lords has startled England as no political announcement in years. It is said the king made this refusal positive and declared he would not recede from it, even if the country went overwhelmingly Liberal at the forthcoming general elections.

The king summoned the members of the privy council to meet him to talk over the situation. The privy councilors are selected from both parties and are men who have won fame in their respective business and professions. The cabinet also held a prolonged session, after which Prime Minister Asquith was received by the king.

King George is known to have pronounced Tory feelings, but the idea that he would defy popular opinion, as is expected to be expressed at the polls in December, strikes the people as incredible. Even the Conservatives are startled by the possible consequences of George's act. The Morning News, in a passionate review of the situation, says:

Would Mean Revolution.

"In a survey of the theoretical possibilities of the political situation
one is compelled to take into consideration the practically inconceivable proposition that the crown may ally itself with the house of lords to prevent the legalizing of the people's judgment. Such a move would mean a monarchial revolution, added to the peers' revolution, and in such an event the gravest happenings that the country has noted in centuries are to be expected."

King George arrived at London from Sandringham to be on the firing line. Asquith has demanded that if the people in the elections returned an overwhelming majority for the Liberals in the house of commons, King George should agree to create sufficient Liberal peers to outvote the Conservatives in the house of lords.
In this way Asquith expected to have the house of lords pass the "parliament bill," by which the veto power is taken away from the hereditary peers of the realm.

American Miner Killed in Mexico

Durango, Mexico, Nov. 17. — John R. Lockhart, a wealthy American mining man, who was making a trip through the mountains to his mines, was shot and killed from ambush near Ventanas, this state, and his body has just reached here. The object of the murder was robbery. Mr.
Lockhart was formerly a leading stockman of southwest Texas.

Rodriguez Was Mexican.

Eagle Pass, Tex., Nov. 17. — The mother of Antonio Rodriguez, the Mexican who was burned at the stake at Rock Springs for the murder of Mrs. Lem Henderson, lives in Eagle Pass. She has informed the Mexican government, that is investigating the lynching, that her son was born in Porfirio Diaz, Mexico, 22 years ago. He was therefore a Mexican citizen.

Hunting Notes.

Bill Robertson and Mayor Cassing-ham went to the vicinity of Willis Creek Thursday to spend the day hunting birds.

Bane started Thursday noon for the McCullough farm near Six Mile Run on a hunting expedition.

SHERIFF IS FOILED

Columbus, O., Nov. 17.—After successfully giving an attorney in Dayton "the slip" and landing John Horton, an alleged "green goods" artist, in the penitentiary under sentence of two years from Mercer county, Sheriff A. B. Grathjan of Mercer county was thwarted at the doors of the prison when he found a telegram at the warden's office notifying him that the circuit court of Mercer county had granted a suspension of execution of sentence of Horton. He took his prisoner back to Dayton.

Horton was convicted and sentenced at Celina, Mercer county, several weeks ago in a swindling game, and when he neglected to perfect his appeal to the circuit court the Mercer county sheriff went to Dayton and nabbed him. Horton's lawyer at once set about to secure his release, but the sheriff gave him the slip by driving to Miamisburg in an automobile, where he caught a train to Columbus.

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA CON- DUCTED SERVICES

The Daughters of America performed the last and rites Wednesday afternoon at South Lawn cemetery for Mrs. William McCoy, this being the first funeral since the organization of the local chapter a year and a half ago. Carriages for the Daughters of America to and from the cemetery were furnished by Mr. McCoy. The ritualistic service was very beautiful at the grace, Mrs.
Sarah Hall acting as counsellor. After reading from the ritual she offered a prayer and the members of the lodge sang their funeral song.

Aeroplane Inventor

Kept Strong and Vigorous to the Age of 90 and Enabled to Live to See His Life's Work Crowned With Success

MR. HENRY CLARKE MOORE

Mr. Henry Clarke Moore of Tama, Iowa, who is 90 years of age, has just completed his first flying machine. His brain has been kept clear and alert, and the perfection of his invention made possible by the daily use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, as his only invigorator and tonic stimulant.

In an interview with our correspondent he said: "For several years I have been greatly troubled with dormant and sluggish action of the lower bowels, which caused me intense suffering. No treatment seemed to benefit me until finally I was induced to try Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. It gave me immediate relief. I steadily gained my health and strength, until now I am as vigorous and active as a man of 60 years of age. My mind is as clear as it ever was, and I have done some of the best work on my invention the last few years, which proves my mental and physical condition.

Please bear in mind that I am a temperance man and do not advise any one to use alcoholic beverages except as a medicine, but I do firmly advise all old people and those who are run down to use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as I have, as I believe it is the greatest support to those who are weakened by age. In my case it stimulated and built me up; it quickened my circulation and made me feel more alert and able to do things.

I will be very glad if my interview with you before this have not heard of the great good they may receive from the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey."

Thousands of letters like this one from Mr. Moore are received from men and women in all walks of life who have been restored to normal health by the use of the world's greatest tonic-stimulant.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, be sure you get the genuine. It is an absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY—never in bulk. Look for the trade mark the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken.
Price, $1.00 a large bottle. Write Medical Department, The Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Baltimore, Md., for doctor's advice and an illustrated medical booklet containing testimonials and rare common sense rules for health, both sent free.

Thackeray on Fame.

Thackeray's literary work did not help him much when he sought to enter the house of commons. The Rev. Frederick Meyrick in his "Memories of Oxford" tells of a dinner given when he stood as a Liberal for that city: "I remarked to him that his must be a special experience, as he was known by fame to most of those whose votes he canvassed. 'Now,' he said, 'laying down his knife and fork and holding up a finger, 'there was only one man among all that I went to see who had heard my name before; and he was a circulating librarian. Such is mortal fame.' That was in 1857, ten years after the publication of 'Vanity Fair.'"

New Family.

"Mamma," asked the little boy, "who are the Highwaters?" "Highwaters?" answered the mother. "I don't know any such family. Why do you ask?" "Well, I heard Mr. Perkins ask papa if he'd be over to the little game to night, and papa said he'd be there in spite of Helen Highwater."—Chicago Post.

A Morning Call.

Swanson (bashfully)—Is Miss Tremmer in? Housemaid—She is, sir, but she is engaged. Swanson (who had settled things the evening before)—Yes, I know. I'm the young man.

WHAT CURES ECZEMA?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding Eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D., can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called Eczema remedies sold, we ourselves unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription.

Because—We know that it gives instant relief to that torturing itch.

Because—D. D. D. starts the cure at the foundation of the trouble.

Because—it cleanses, soothes and heals the skin.

Because—it enables Nature to repair the ravages of disease.

Because—he records of ten years of complete cures of thousands of the most serious cases show that D. D. D. is today re-organized as the absolutely reliable Eczema Cure.

BOYS' ELECTRICAL SHOP PRACTICE, Y. M. C. A., DAYTON

WORK in electricity always has its appeal for boys and never more definitely and certainly than at the period when they are beginning to make things for themselves. Many young-fools are forced to commence to earn their living at a time when this particular form of work and instruction makes its most vicious appeal to their minds. To meet this situation the Y. M. C. A. of the state, through their State Committee's help, have installed classes in electrical engineering in 20 cities throughout Ohio. The picture herewith shows one of the classes in Dayton. It will be noticed that the most up-to-date appliances are provided for the boys.

TOASTMASTER NICHOLAS LAUNCHES BOOM FOR WILLIAM A. ASHBROOK

Past Chancellors Entertained In Royal Manner At Their Meeting In Coshocton — Castle Hall Presented An Inspiring Scene.

The good fellowship which prevails every time a crowd of Knights of Pythias get together, was much in evidence at the banquet given by Fidelity Lodge No. 135 at Castle Hall Wednesday evening in honor of the Past Chancellors' Ass'n, about 250 guests being seated at the five long tables in the banquet hall, including fifty from Newark and many from other points.

Pythianism ranks very high among the great fraternal organizations of the land and in Coshocton the members are very loyal to their lodge and whenever some extraordinary event is planned they all turn in and do everything possible to make it a success. This was especially true of the affair Wednesday evening. Committees had been appointed for the various departments of the work and every member did his part nobly and they were all on hand at the appointed hour to see that everything was carried out in the most approved fashion.

By 8 o'clock the quarters in the Gray building were well filled with local lodgemen and visiting brothers. The land of friendship, the land that burned in the hearts of Damon and Pythias of old, was extended to everyone and the smiling bonhomie of Pythianism was ever in evidence.

About 8:30 the guests filed into the banquet hall, which presented an inspiring appearance. The long white tables were laden with all that a healthy man could wish for, yea even more. White-aproned waiters, with carnations in their button-holes, hastened hither and thither through the banquet hall carrying tray-loads of everything from baked beans up. Mine host Ed Stauden had prepared a splendid feast and everything was greatly relished. Chancellor Commander L. N. Glauque, who is one of the most energetic boosters of the Coshocton lodge, arose, after all had eaten their fill, and with a few well chosen remarks introduced the celebrated toastmaster, Judge S. H. Nicholas, who at once became master of ceremonies and kept the ball rolling in his inimitable style. He carried on a rapid fire of wit and capped the climax by launching a boom for Congressman Ashbrook for governor of Ohio. It made a big hit for Mr. Ashbrook, who stood well with his brother lodgemen. The gentleman from Licking county could scarcely conceal his blushes when the toastmaster said that Congressman Ashbrook would never run for a fourth term because the people had something better in store for him.

Some splendid speeches followed, among those who responded to toasts being: Past Grand Chancellor Woelke, of Columbus; Grand Vice Chancellor Spencer Wallace, of Steubenville; Judge Frank Ashman, of Coshocton; Hon. W. A. Ashbrook, of Johnstown; William Mitchell, of Granville, vice president of the Past Chancellors' Ass'n; Rev. Jones, of Coshocton, Prosector-elect Geo. D. Klein, of Coshocton; Judge Irwin and Fred Wilson, of Newark; Postmaster Snyder and W. H. Manner, of Coshocton, and Chancellor Commander Harvey, of the Urbichville lodge.

The good wholesome fun as well as oratory which permeated the banquet was of the character which tends to cement the friendships already formed and molds in the hearts of the lodgemen a deeper love for their fellow man.

The menu at the banquet was as follows:

Pickles	Celery	Olives
Braised rabbit with brown gravy
Mashed Potatoes
Baked Beans	Cold Slaw
Haasenspeffer	Creamy Butter
White Bread	Cake
Coffee	Cigars

The past chancellors transacted routine business at their session, which was held before the banquet in the Business Men's Ass'n room. It was decided to hold the next meeting of the past chancellors at Newark next February. The exact date will be determined later.

CHARGES CLEVELAND HOSPITAL IS PRISON

Canton, O., Nov. 17. — Sensational charges of abuse at the hands of surgeons in the Cleveland City hospital were made here by Henry Nemstor, 25, a Roumanian, who says he has been crippled for life as a result of operations in the hospital against his wishes. Nemstor says he was kept in solitary confinement almost three years, and that during that time 20 operations were performed. Nemstor in his statement declares that he escaped last Saturday night after plotting for two weeks, and after inmates, nurses and doctors had retired.

Nemstor mentions the names of Dr. Wilson, Dr. Case, Dr. Houston and Dr. Westside as the surgeons who are guilty. He is not positive as to their names, but says they sounded like those given. Nemstor says he protested by kicking and fighting against the treatment. He says he was held down and a sponge held over his nose until his struggles ceased and he lapsed into unconsciousness. He calls the hospital a chamber of horrors where patients are operated upon so that surgeons may study the human body.

At The Colonial.

The Carr Stock Co. changed their bill Wednesday night, playing a little old act drama called "Falsely Accused" a story of deepest interest. The play is a most interesting one and is exceptionally well acted by the Carr company.

A young man in love with his mother's companion is falsely accused of stealing a valuable necklace from his mother. Evidence points strongly against him and he is turned from his home. The real thief posing as the father of the mother's companion tries to land the young man is exonerated and the man posing as the father is sent to jail. The piece is worked out charmingly and has just enough of the melodramatic to deepen the interest. At the same time there is a rich vein of comedy running through the sketch which at times turns what would have been tears into genuine laughter.

The same bill will be played to night and on Friday night another change will be made.

The company is an unusual one for vaudeville and by the attendance which has been extraordinarily large this week Coshocton people appreciate it.

AGREE AS TO LIBERIA

Paris, Nov. 17. — The Temps says an agreement has been reached by the United States, France, Great Britain and Germany for rehabilitating the finances of Liberia. Mr. Knox, the American secretary of state, proposed in July of this year to save Liberia from bankruptcy by the United States paying its debt and taking over control of the customs for security. M. Pichon, the French minister of foreign affairs, opposed such a settlement as infringing on France's rights under her Liberian treaties of 1892 and 1907. Negotiations followed, in which England, as the owner of a neighboring colony, and Germany, which is always concerned in anything connected with a division of Africa took part.

The special position of the United States toward Liberia is recognized in the agreement which has just been reached. It is provided, first, that Liberia, without losing her rights of sovereignty, agrees that the United States shall represent her abroad in the diplomatic and consular services.

The second provision is that the four powers named above agree to unify and liquidate the debt of Liberia and to organize joint financial control of the customs.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES

They Are Closely Observing Public Health Conditions.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that the reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of applicants do not even suspect that they have the disease.

He states that judging from his own experience and reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has probably been more successful in relieving and curing these diseases than any remedy known. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of cures.

We find that Swamp Root is strictly an herbal compound and we would advise our readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes—fifty-cents and one-dollar.

However, if you wish first to test the preparation, the manufacturers will gladly forward you a sample bottle by mail, absolutely free. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and mention this paper.

Sermon Delivered on "A Lost Christ"

The Wednesday evening service at the Baptist church was fully as helpful as the previous services. The topic of Rev. Pilot's sermon was "A Lost Christ," based upon the incident in which Jesus' parents left him behind in Jerusalem.

It was pointed out that we may lose Christ even though we love Him. The cares and excitement of life may crowd Him out.

We may lose Him, as well in service.

THE CAMERA OBSCURA.

From It Was Evolved Our Modern Photographic Apparatus.

The camera was invented by an Italian named Baptista Porta, though it was not at first used for photographing. It was in reality merely a dark room, into which the light was admitted through a little round hole in one side. The rays of light coming from objects outside of this room entered it through this aperture and made a picture on the other side of the room glowing in all the beauty and color of nature itself, but rather indistinct and upside down.

This dark room was contrived by Porta about the middle of the sixteenth century. He improved it later by placing a glass lens in the aperture and outside a mirror which reflected the rays of light and reflected them through the lens so that the image upon the opposite wall within was made much brighter, more distinct and in a natural or erect position. This was really the first camera obscura, an invention which is enjoyed to the present day.

Now our modern photographic camera is merely a small camera obscura in its simplest form, carrying a lens at one end and a ground glass screen at the other. It is, however, often much more complicated in its construction.

St. Petersburg's new municipal laboratory has been given the name of the great Russian biologist, Metchnikoff.

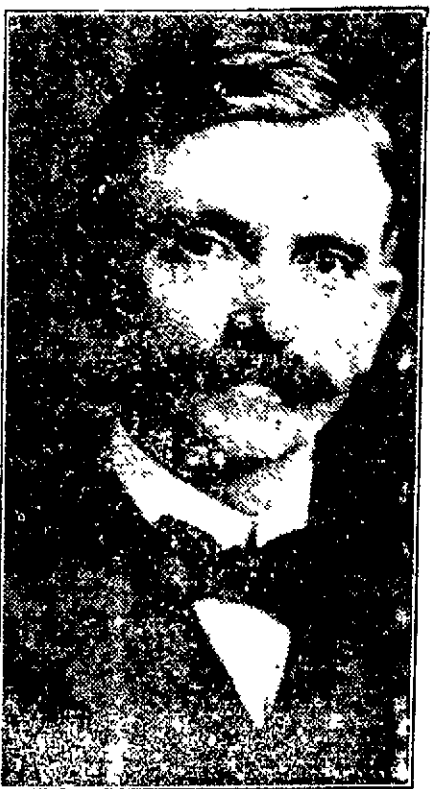

vice. May become so concerned in the machinery of religion as to lose sight of Him, who is "the way, the truth and the life."

One of the most helpful features of the service was the short address by Mrs. Geo. W. Peckham, field-worker for the Woman's Home Missionary society. She told of the power of the gospel to change the hearts and lives of the people of other races.

No Baptist in the city can afford to miss these services.

DIATOMITE.

Infusorial Earth Formed by Bodies of Minute Shellfish.

Diatoms are tiny creatures that multiply very rapidly until they form a scum upon the surface of the water in many parts of the world. They are rarely more than one hundredth part of an inch in diameter and often considerably less. Their shells are composed of silica and these shells are well known to the microscopist on account of their great beauty.

When the little creatures die the shells sink to the bottom of the stream or pond where they form a kind of silicious bed and there are vast deposits of this material in various parts of the world. It is a valuable earth, as it is made of silica, and is used for a variety of purposes under the name of diatomite. It is employed as a vegetable or animal food for livestock, and the resulting waste is dynamite diatomite is an excellent non-conductor of heat and in this capacity it is used for lining the hollow interiors of the walls of safes, as a lining for stoves and furnaces, and as a covering for steam pipes and boilers. For such purposes as these it has an advantage over asbestos in the matter of price and also of weight.

It can be made into bricks or slabs by the addition of a small quantity of lime or clay, and these bricks can be raised to a white heat without showing any signs of fusion.

Diatomite occurs in great quantities in the United States, in Prussia, in parts of Scotland, in Canada and to a lesser degree in Western Australia and New Zealand—Harper's Weekly.

PRUNING

November Can Be Used to Good Advantage.

BY JOS. H. GOURLEY.

Agricultural Extension Department, Ohio State University

The pleasant weather through November can be used to good advantage in the apple orchard. As soon as the crop has been harvested and the leaves have fallen, we can begin pruning and get a good portion of it done before the cold, disagreeable weather of winter sets in. It is not necessary to wait until early spring for this orchard operation; begin at once. The past pruning season impressed this lesson upon us; the snow and cold weather did not leave us until time to rush with the other spring work, only the most faithful found time to get over the entire orchard and do the necessary pruning. Neglect of the annual pruning means increased work the following season, smaller fruit, and in some measure, sapping the tree of its vitality.

The How.

Work toward an open headed tree, through which the sunshines and air have free passage; cut out rubbing limbs; cut back the overgrown shoots, keeping in mind a low headed tree. Remove watersprouts which only sap the life of the larger limbs; they are seldom so placed as to form good bearing wood. Take out all dead wood, saw it up for fire wood and haul it from the orchard. All brush left in the orchard is an ideal breeding place for insects and diseases.

The Wound.

In removing a limb always cut close to and just above a lateral branch or close to the trunk of the tree to make it easier for nature to heal the wound. All cuts over one and one-half inches in diameter should be painted with white lead to prevent decay; it will not injure the tissue or prevent healing.

Don'ts.

Don't cut off the lower limbs—encourage them to come clear to the ground.

Don't cut off the fruit spurs. These bear the fruit.

Don't leave a stub, as it will decay back into the body of the tree and prevent the healing of the wound.

SPRAYING.

Proper Equipment For.

Too often we hear, "spraying doesn't pay." In many instances it does not. But one who has been unsuccessful should not hastily conclude that the failure was due either to the man or the method, or both, for the merits of spraying when intelligently done are now too well established to admit of any controversy. Very often the equipment is faulty or the work is not done on time. Some successful farmers are still trying to spray the large trees in the home orchard with a knapsack sprayer or a bucket pump. They do not want to go to the expense of buying a good barrel pump just for the home orchard. In the meantime they can't seem to realize that the product from one good-sized applicator for one season might be made to pay for all equipment. Then there is a class of owners of large orchards who cannot seem to understand that, of all orchard operations, spraying is the one thing that it pays to do well.

Perhaps Your Observation, Too.

The writer recently saw the effects of good and poor spraying beautifully illustrated. In one orchard, which is in charge of a young man who has attended the Ohio Agricultural College, there is a crop of almost perfect fruit and the foliage is healthy and vigorous. This result was accomplished by giving three sprayings with a power outfit. It is needless to say that the work was thoroughly done. In fact the neighbors were decidedly of the opinion that the young man wasted much spraying material. An adjoining orchard, separated from the first by a fence only, was sprayed four times by the owner with a similar power outfit but with far different results. Here there is a good deal of scrub and many wormy apples to be found and the leaves are very badly injured by leaf spot. This man might feel certain that spraying cannot be made to pay if it were not for the splendid example, showing what painstaking care will do, which he finds just over the fence. Spraying is expensive but since it has come to be such a necessary operation in fruit growing, the best of equipment and the best of work will be found to be none too good.

There are no signs of over production of fine fruit. The quickest way to get fine fruit is to shape up the old orchard; spray it thoroughly. This may take but one year, and it takes several to plant and orchard and get returns.

Grapes can be pruned this month as well as next spring. Keep new wood coming on all the time as the old wood is of little value for good fruit protection.

Put seed potatoes in good storage, not in the same cellar with the furnace nor in an outbuilding where they will be frozen. Care of the seed stock is one of the secrets of success for the potato grower.

The Advice of a Friend

Given to Those Who Need It.

San Francisco, Cal.—"To anyone who is run-down or who needs a good blood purifier, I want to recommend Vinol the great cod liver and iron tonic. I was run-down, feeling badly and only weighed about 140 lbs. I took a course of Vinol—it purified my blood, gave me a fine appetite, and built me right up. Now I am well and strong, weight 175 pounds, and, in fact, never felt better in my life." John S. Charles, 3264 17th St., San Francisco, Cal. (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

Vinol is a delicious combination of the health-giving properties of the cod's liver, with the grease eliminated, and tonic iron added, blended in a mild medicinal wine.

If your blood is poor or sluggish, your appetite poor, your digestion weak or your vitality not up to the standard, or if you are suffering from chronic coughs, colds or bronchial troubles, try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. It could not do what all these people claim it did for them if it was not honest.

A LONG WASH DAY.

It Lasted a Week, but Came Only Four Times a Year.

Every one has heard of the German and Dutch method of accumulating soiled clothes and of having a wash day only two or three times a year. Not every one realizes, perhaps, that the custom was brought over to this country from Holland and that the Dutch settlers long continued its practice. In these days of the ever ready laundry it is strange to read of the laborious period which came to our New Amsterdam ancestors four times a year. Helen Emerson Smith tells about it in "Colonial Days and Ways."

The custom of quarterly clothes washings was maintained notwithstanding our summer heats and the immense quantities of clothes necessary to keep up the state of cleanliness required by Dutch instincts. A New Englander who had married a citizen of New York writes in 1700 of this practice, which was undoubtedly strange to her.

"Grandmother Blum is so deep in her quarterly wash this week that she has time only to send her love."

The washing was done in an out house called the blockery, where the water was boiled in immense kettles and all the other processes of the laundry work carried on. The work required not less than a week, frequently two weeks.

During the time preceding this cruelly hard labor the soiled clothes were accumulating in very large hamper of open basketwork. This custom originated the necessity for the great stores of linen with which every bride was provided.

The Crowded Tents in Which the Shepherd Warriors Live.

Arabs are true nomads. Their life is a constant wandering. They live entirely on the produce of their herds. Their tents are quickly taken down or put up and easy of transport. They are made of camel's hair, loosely woven, supported on poles or long guy ropes. They protect the occupants from the hot sun, but not from the rain, and in winter the encampments are uncomfortable places.

The interior is crowded with all the belongings of these shepherd warriors—camel saddles and gaudy saddlebags, rifles and ammunition, hunting dogs and fowls. The women occupy one half; the men use the other, partitioned off by a brightly colored curtain. The whole of the front of the tent being open, there is no privacy. The average tent measures twenty yards by six.

The chief of the tribe, however, owns many tents, and he has for his own use one giant structure, sometimes spread over a length of thirty-six yards. In his other tents the chief keeps his numerous wives, who have a certain proportion of their master's flocks and herds to look after. Having a separate tent for each wife, he thus does away with all chance of domestic quarrels.—Argonaut.

THREE HUNTERS GOT SEVENTY-NINE RABBITS

Will Smith and two other Roscoe men went out hunting Wednesday and brought home 79 rabbits. It is one of the biggest killings of the season.

John Crawford and a friend shot 47 rabbits and 8 quail on a shooting trip near Dresden Tuesday.

C. A. Brode left Wednesday evening for Newcomerstown to be joined there by a party of Columbus hunters. The party are hunting through the fields about six miles south of that village.

Eleven in a Bed.

In early Victorian times the work man was accustomed to rough it. Isabella Fyfe Mayo in her "Recollections" mentions that one flourishing firm of bakers—patronized by royalty—"kept eleven men and had only one bed for them all. During the twenty-four hours they occupied it turn and turn about. One of these unfortunate was generally in Charles Cross hospital, and the 'master' got a reputation for generosity by his yearly subscription to its funds."

Very Likely. Albert—A dog that runs under a carriage is called a carriage dog, is it not?

Egbert—Certainly.

Albert—Well, what would you call a dog that runs under a motor car?

Egbert—Why, a dead one.

Economy of Time.

Friend—I say, one of your clocks is slow and the other's fast. Young Lawyer—Yes; I start work by the slow one and stop by the other—Life.

SLEEVE PULLED TRIGGER; THUMB IS BLOWN OFF

An accidental discharge of a shot gun Tuesday afternoon cost Howard Valentine, aged 17, son of Stewart Valentine of Roscoe, the thumb on his left hand. The palm of the hand was mostly blown away by the discharge.

Valentine started from his home for rabbits. At the gate the gun was discharged by his sleeve touching the trigger in some manner. His left hand with which he was carrying the gun was over the end of the barrel and received most of the shot.

Ers Middleton and McCurdy were called and gave the young man medical attention. The hand will be crippled for life.

The Fortune Hunter

Serialized by LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE From the Play of the Same Name by WINCHELL SMITH
Copyright 1910, by Winchell Smith and Louis Joseph Vance

Duncan drew a deep breath and looked Kellogg over very critically.

"If I didn't know you so well, Harry," said Duncan slowly, "I'd be certain you were mad. I'm not at all sure that I'm sane. It's a very odd thing, and it's a pretty damned rank thing to do to start deliberately out to marry a woman for her money. But I've been through a little hell of my own in my time, and it's not alluring to contemplate a return to it. There's nothing mad enough nor bad enough to stop me. What're I got to do?"

Kellogg beamed his triumph. "You'll try it on, then?"

"I'll try anything on. It's a contemptible, low lived piece of business, but good may come of it, you can't tell. What're I got to do?"

Slipping back, Kellogg knitted his fingers and stared at the ceiling, smiling.

"I KNEW THERE WAS A CATCH IN IT SOMEWHERE."

ing faintly to himself as he enumerated the conditions that first appeared to his understanding as essentials to ward success.

"First pick out your town, one of 2,000 or 3,000 inhabitants no larger. I'd suggest at a hazard every some place in the interior of Pennsylvania. Most of such towns have at least one rich man with a marriageable daughter—but we'll make sure of that before we settle on one. Of course any suburban town is barred."

"How so?"

"Oh, they don't count. The girls always know people in the city—can get there easily. That spoils the game."

"How about the game laws?"

"I'm coming to them. Of course there isn't an open or close season, and the hunting's always good, but there are a few precautionary measures to be taken if you want to be sure of bagging an heiress. You won't like most of 'em."

"Like 'em! I'll live by them!"

"Well, here come the things you mustn't do. You mustn't smoke or drink."

"Heavens! Are these people an inhuman as all that?"

"Worse than that. It might be fatal if you were ever seen at the hotel bar. And, to begin with, you must refuse all invitations of any sort, whether to dances, parties, church socials or even Sunday dinners."

"Why Sunday dinners?"

"Because Sunday's the only day you'll be invited. Dinner on weekdays is from 12 to 12:30, and it's strictly a business matter, no time for guests. But you needn't fret. They won't ask you till they've sized you up pretty carefully."

"Oh?"

"Moreover, you must be very particular about your dress. It must be absolutely faultless, but very quiet. Clothing sober, dark grays and blacks and plain, but the very last word as to cut and fit. And everything must be in keeping, the very best of shirts, collars, ties, hats, socks, shoes, underwear."

"Kellogg caught Duncan's look and laughed. "Your laundress will report on everything, you know, so you must be impeccable."

"I'll be even that, whatever it is."

"Be very particular about having your shoes polished, shave daily and manicure yourself religiously, but don't let 'em catch you at it."

"Would they raid me if they did?"

"And then, my son, you must work."

Kellogg paused to let his lesson sink in. After a time Duncan observed plaintively, "I knew there was a catch in it somewhere. What kind of work?"

"It doesn't make any difference, so long as you get and hold some job in the town."

"Well, that lets me out. You'll have to see some other poor devil on this glittering proposition of yours. I couldn't hold a job in."

"Wait! I'll tell you how to do it in just a minute."

"I don't mind listening, but—"

"You'll clinch the whole business by going to church without a break. Don't ever fail—morning and evening, every Sunday. Don't forget that."

"Why?"

"It's the most important thing of all."

"Does going to church make such a hit with the young female Jasper—the Jasperette, as it were?"

"It'll make you more solid than anything else with her popper and monomer, and that's very necessary when you're a candidate for their ducats as well as their daughter. You must work and you must go to church."

"That can't be all. Surely you can think of something else."

"Those are the cardinal rules—church and work until you've landed your heiress. After that you can move back to civilization. Now, as soon as you strike your town you want to make arrangements for board and lodging in some old woman's house, preferably an old maid. You'll be sure to find at least half a dozen of 'em willing to take boarders, but you want to be equally sure to pick out the one that talks the most, so that she'll tell the neighbors all about you. Don't worry about that, though. They all talk. When you've moved in stock up your room with about twenty of the dullest looking books in the world. I'd books look most imposing. Fix up a table with lots of stationery—pens and pencils, red and black ink, and all that sort of thing. Make the room look as if you were the most sincere student ever. And by no means neglect to have a well worn Bible prominently in evidence. You can buy one second hand at some bookstore before you start out."

"I'd have to, of course. I thank you for the flattery. Proceed with the program of the gay, mad life I must lead. I'm going to have a swell time; that's perfectly plain."

"As soon as you're shaken down in your room make the rounds of the stores and ask for work. Try to get into the dry goods emporium if you can. The girls all shop there. But anything will do, except a grocery or a hardware store and places like that. You mustn't consider any employment that would soil your clothes or roughen your lily white hands."

"You expect me to believe I'd have any chance of winning a millionaire's daughter if I were a ribbon clerk in a dry goods store?"

"The best in the world. The ribbon clerk is her social equal. He calls her Mary, and she calls him Joe."

"Done with you? Me for the ribbon counter! Anything else?"

"The storekeepers aren't apt to employ you at first. They'll be suspicious of you."

"They will be afterward, all right. However—"

"So you must simply call on them, walk in, locate the boss and tell him, 'I'm looking for employment.' Don't say 'I just saw it and get out.'"

"I'll be able to do that. It's the only way when I ask for work."

They'll send for you before long. When they make up their minds that you're a decent, moral young man, for they know you'll draw trade. And every Sunday—"

"I know—church!"

"Absolutely! Pick out the one the rich folks go to. Go in quietly and do just as they do—stand up and kneel, look up the hymns and sing just when they do. Be careful not to sing too loud or anything like that. Just do it all modestly, as if you were used to it. Better go to church here two or three times and get the hang of it."

"Here, now—"

"Nearly all the wealthy coddlers in such towns as you, you see, are, though they can't not seek to you for months on the street, it's their business to waylay you after the service is over and shake hands with you and tell you they hope you enjoyed the sermon and ask you to come again. And, you can bank on it, they'll all take notice from the first."

"It's no wonder Bartlett made you a partner, Harry."

"Now, behave. I want you to get in right. If you follow the rules I've outlined, not only will all the girls in town be falling over themselves to get to you first, but their fond parents will be egging them on. Then all you've got to do is to pick out the one with the biggest bundle and—"

"Make a play for her?"

"Not on your life! That would be fatal. Your part is to put yourself in her way. She'll do all the courting, and when she scents the psychological moment she'll do the proposing."

"It doesn't sound natural, but you certainly seem to know what you're droling about."

"You can anchor on that, Nat."

"And are you finished?"

"I am. Of course I'll probably think of more things to wise you to before you go."

Duncan laughed shortly and tilted back in his chair, selecting another cigarette. "And you're the chap who wanted me to go to some bromide old show tonight! Harry, you're immense. Why didn't you ever let me suspect you had all this romantic imagination in your system?"

"Imagination be blown, son. This is business." Kellogg removed the stopper from the decanter and filled both glasses again. "Well, what do you say?"

"I've just said my say, Harry. It's amazing. I'm proud of you."

"But will you do it?"

"Everything else aside, how can I? I've got to live, you know."

"But I propose to stake you."

Duncan came down to earth. "No, you won't—not a cent. I'm in earnest about this thing—no more sponging on you, Harry. Besides—"

"No, seriously, Nat, I mean this, every word of it. I want you to do it, to please me if you like. I've a notion something will come of it. And I believe from the bottom of my heart there's not the slightest risk if you'll play the cards as they fall, according to Hovle."

"Harry, I believe you do."

"I do firmly. And I'll put the proposition on a business basis if you like."

"Go on. There's no holding you."

"You start out tomorrow and order your war kit. Get everything you need, and plenty of it, and have the bills sent to me. You can be ready in side a fortnight. The day you start I'll advance you $500. When you're married you can repay me the amount of the advances with interest at 10 per cent and I'll consider it a mighty good deal for myself. Now, will you?"

"You mean it?"

"Every word of it. Well?"

For a moment longer Duncan hesitated, then the vision of what he must return to otherwise decided him. In desperation he accepted. "It's a drowning man's straw," he said, a little breathlessly. "I'm sure I shouldn't, but I will."

Kellogg flung a hand across the table, palm upmost.

"Word of honor, Nat?"

Duncan let his hand fall into it.

"Word of honor! I'll see it through."

"Good! It's a bargain." Kellogg lifted his glass high in air. "To the fortune hunter!" he cried, half laughingly.

Duncan nervously studied the stem of his glass. "God help the future Mrs. Duncan," he said and drank.

CLASH OVER FREE WHEAT

Columbus, O., Nov. 17.—Spring and winter wheat millers clashed in a discussion at the first session of the convention of the Ohio Millers' Association concerning the advisability of admitting Canadian wheat free of duty.

Canada grows spring wheat exclusively, and consequently spring wheat millers favored its admission to the United States free of duty, and the winter wheat millers opposed it. At adjournment no evidence of a settlement of the question was noticeable.

Eighty of the 200 Ohio millers belonging to the association were present.

Pressures up to 32,000 pounds to the square inch are used to force a paste formed of pure metallic tungsten and a binding material through holes drilled in diamonds to form incandescent lamp filaments.

MAY HAVE WRONG MAN

Asbury Park, N. J., Nov. 17.—No new evidence was obtained against Thomas Williams, the negro in the Freehold jail, who is charged with the murder of Marie Smith, whose mutilated body was found in the Wanamassa woods last Sunday. The police and detectives at work on the case are apparently completely baffled and have started on a new scent which has to do with a mysterious white man who was seen near the spot where the body was found about the time the murder is believed to have been committed.

THEY ALL DEMAND IT.

Coshocton, Like Every City and Town In The Union, Receives It

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies to-day that relieve but do not cure. Here is evidence to prove that Doan's Kidney Pills cure, and the cure is lasting.

Mrs. C. Apphle, E. State St., Newcomerstown, O., says: "I have done a great deal of hard work and this no doubt was the cause of my kidney complaint from which I suffered for years. Sharp, knife-like pains passed through my kidneys and at times my back was so lame that it was all I could do to get about. If I lay down the trouble became worse and added to this, was an annoyance from the kidney secretions I had dizzy spells and at times my feet and ankles swelled. When Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention, I procured a supply and it did not take them long to relieve me. The contents of three or four boxes made a complete cure and I now have no trouble from my kidneys."

The above statement was given in August 1906 and when Mrs. Apphle was interviewed on May 10, 1909 she said: "It gives me pleasure to confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. The cure they made in my case has been permanent."

Daylight Window Displays at Night

"Yes, it's wonderful the way window displays can be made under the pure white rays of this new General Electric Mazda Lamp. Just notice how perfectly it accentuates every detail in fabrics. Matching goods under its white rays is easy, for it radiates a daylight effect. You will notice that progressive stores everywhere are using these G-E Mazda Lamps, for aside from their vastly superior quality of light they give nearly three times as much candle-power as the ordinary carbon incandescent lamps. And they cost no more to operate. This G-E Mazda is a most ingenious invention; it is simply revolutionizing lighting methods. Notice how greatly it improves the appearance of all the live stores along this street."

"Traffic is always determined by the way a street is lighted, and that's why the night window gazers (and next morning buyers) are irresistibly drawn to stores using these beaming G-E Mazda Lamps."

We want you to come in for a moment today and let us prove to your entire satisfaction that if you are not using electric light—and the wonderful G-E Mazda Lamp—you are losing money and denying yourself comfort and convenience. We can prove this to you.

SAGE AND SULPHUR

Made Her Look Twenty Years Younger

READ MRS. HERRICK'S SWORN STATEMENT

STATE OF NEW YORK } ss
COUNTY OF MONROE } ss

Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When I was a girl, I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair which was the envy of my schoolmates, and which attracted the attention and remarks of strangers. As I grew older, my hair commenced to come out, just a little at first, but gradually more and more, and then began to turn gray. I was induced by the many good reports I had heard of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy to try a bottle. My hair was quite thin and gray when I began using Sage and Sulphur, and you can imagine my satisfaction when I found that it was fast coming back to its natural condition, being thicker, darker and more glossy than it had been for a long time. I continued to use Sage and Sulphur, and my hair is now as heavy, dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. It is now four years since I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and my hair is still in splendid condition.

Sworn to before me this 14th day of July, 1909.
